INVESTING TIME WISELY

Classroom teachers juggle many roles and with full teaching timetables are often looking for ways to use time well to get their planning, marking and feedback done to a high quality, whilst also teaching great lessons - not to mention leading busy lives outside of work!

School leaders face many conflicting pulls on their time, often responding to the priorities of others before taking the time to get to their own, whilst regularly feeling the pressure of responding to deadlines and immediate issues rather than longer term strategy. The principle behind Investing Time Wisely is to shift common perceptions about time management and offers a systematic and practical approach to getting the most important things done. The course will look closely at where most of your time and energy is currently committed and what the impact of that is for leaders and their teams. Mary Phillips an experienced teacher and leader now works as an educational coach, consultant and trainer across London Schools, working regularly with middle and senior leaders, transforming the way they make use of time to achieve greater impact and satisfaction in their roles.

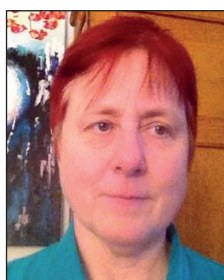

This session will take place on
Wednesday 3rd November 2021
From 4.00 - 6.00pm

at Lampton School, Lampton Avenue, Hounslow TW3 4EP
